SOLARWRIGHTS, INC. JOINS CONNECTICUT-BASED COMPANY

Bristol, RI – New England's premier solar and wind design and installation firm, SolarWrights, Inc., announced today that it has become a wholly owned subsidiary of Earth Friendly Energy Group, Inc., a parent company established in Connecticut by SolarWrights President, Robert Chew. In addition to SolarWrights, Inc., which will remain dedicated to all Rhode Island installations, three divisions will be held under the Earth Friendly Energy Group umbrella: WindWrights, SolarWrights, and EnergyWrights. WindWrights will represent all aspects of wind energy, SolarWrights will represent solar energy, and EnergyWrights will handle alternative clean energy options, as well as provide energy consultations for residential and commercial properties.

Having worked in the industry since 1977, Mr. Chew will continue as President of Earth Friendly Energy Group, Inc. Steve Townsend, Chairman of the Board for United Natural Foods, Inc., a publicly traded wholesale distributor of organic and natural foods, will also remain as Chairman of the Board for Earth Friendly Energy Group, Inc. With offices throughout New England, Earth Friendly Energy Group, Inc. is swiftly expanding through both acquisitions and organic growth. SolarWrights' rapid growth has earned it such accolades as "Fastest Growing Private Business in Rhode Island" for 2006 (Providence Business News), "Business Excellence Award for Entrepreneurship" in 2007 (Providence Business News), as well as one of the "Best Places to Work in Rhode Island" for two consecutive years (Providence Business News; 2007, 2008). Earth Friendly Energy Group, Inc. is leading the way toward consolidation of solar energy throughout New England, and may expand outside of the region later this year.
