LEADING RENEWABLE ENERGY FIRM ACQUIRES SUNSEARCH, INC

Bristol, RI – SolarWrights, Inc., New England’s premier solar provider of photovoltaic, solar thermal, and wind systems, announced today the acquisition of Sunsearch, LLC. Solar entrepreneur Everett Barber founded Sunsearch in 1975, and will remain with the company as chief solar thermal engineer.

“I am thrilled to be working with Everett,” said Robert Chew, president of Earth SolarWrights, Inc. “When I started my company in 1977, Everett Barber was already a well respected and established name in the solar industry. It’s an honor to integrate his wealth of experience and knowledge into the SolarWrights family.”

With offices throughout New England, SolarWrights, Inc. is swiftly expanding through both acquisitions and organic growth. Sunsearch is the second acquisition for the company this year. In January, SolarWrights acquired Kosmo Solar, a Springfield, MA based solar energy company. SolarWrights’ rapid growth has earned it such accolades as “Fastest Growing Private Business in Rhode Island” of 2006 (Providence Business News), “Business Excellence Award for Entrepreneurship” in 2007 (Providence Business News), as well as one of the 2007 and 2008 “Best Places to Work in Rhode Island” (Providence Business News). SolarWrights is leading the way toward consolidation of solar energy throughout New England, and will continue to expand further outside of the region later this year.
